

"If we who have sailed together
 Flit out of each other's view,
 The world will sail on, I think,
 Just as it used to do."

—Will Carleton

This great, wide world sails on and on, and we who have worked and played together eventually will push off on our own to make places for ourselves in our community. Central High is our world for now, and for many of us it will remain so for some time. We respect and cherish our life at school, because it has given us the guidance we need in preparation for adulthood. We learn to be citizens of a nation that we hope will live in harmony with the countless others.

This Centralian is a recorded history of the events that have occurred in our world in the past year.

Sophomores, this is your first look into a world that will become extremely important and dear to you.

Juniors, make the best of what you have left, for remember, you'll get out of your life at Central what you put into it.

Seniors, take a last look back, bid your world farewell, and step forward into the new world that awaits you!
